NEWS OF THE Y. M. C. A.

Present Building Will Be Improved—The Summer Camp.

At a recent meeting of the building committee of the Y. M. C. A. at the Commercial Club it was decided to recommend at the next meeting, which will be held Friday, the improvement of the present building on North Illinois street. The proposed plan will do away with the steps necessary to reach the lobby. At present it is twenty-eight feet to the lobby, and the same number to the locker room downstairs. The gymnasium is twenty-eight feet above the locker room. Under the new arrangement it will be but eight feet from the lobby to the lockers and will also allow for a small auditorium with a seating capacity of over two hundred. The auditorium has long been needed and will be an important addition to the building.

A large number of names are coming in for the Y. M. C. A. senior annual summer camp at Lake Wawasee. A moderate rate of $11 for one week, $15 for two weeks and $20 for three weeks has been arranged. For four weeks the cost will be $23. This includes car fare for the round trip, tent room and board. Fourteen boys have signified their intention of going into the camp.

The Junior camp this year will be held at the Shades of Death, on Sugar creek, near Crawfordsville. Already applications are coming in for membership in the party. Only the first fifty will be accepted. The boys will live in cabins instead of tents.

The Rev. C. C. Edwards, of the Edwin Ray M. E. Church, will speak at the men's meeting this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. These meetings are becoming more popular all the time and attendance is increasing.

Employers Have Reached Limit of Their Patience, Manufacturers' President Thinks—Local Discussion.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. NEW YORK, May 16.—David M. Parry, president of the National Association of Manufacturers, who is in the city in connection with affairs of the association, was asked to-day for his opinion in respect to the movement now under headway for the organization of the employers in the building trades throughout the country. He said:

"This is a most excellent movement. It shows that the employers have reached the end of their patience, and, rather than put up with conditions that all fair-minded people must grant are insufferable, they are now ready to take such measures for their common defense as events may prove advisable. I take it that the employers in the building trades have no more desire to oppress their employes than employers in other lines. But the time has come when they must grasp the hands of their competitors and in this union find the strength to cope with the ubiquitous agitator who is leading the workmen of the country in a crusade that if not stopped will spell ruin for us all."

"I have been advertised all over the country as a man of intemperate language. I wonder what the editors and the politicians who truckle to the socialistic labor heroes will say when they devour the statement given out for publication by the meeting of 20 builders in this city yesterday? If they called my language intemperate rant, etc., what will they call the language of this statement? In it these men dared to point out the failure of justice in the past to punish violence, the damage to property and the murders committed in the name of labor which have gone unpunished. They have gone so far as to ask that political ambition be not permitted to pervert justice. The district attorney, I read, was called upon to use the machinery at his command and to prosecute with all severity the blackmailers which this pernicious system has fostered and thus to show to the men how they are misrepresented and betrayed. Then again: 'The employers are expected by the public to take the initiative and to use every lawful method to destroy the Goliath, whom lack of opposition has so emboldened that he threatens this great city without hesitation and without compunction.'

"Have I ever pictured the situation any worse than it is here pictured? Some situations demand vigorous language. The time comes when men must speak out, and on such occasions there ought to be no doubt as to their meaning. The employers of this city have a condition, not a theory, confronting them; and perhaps the time is coming when the newspapers and the politicians will wake up to the fact that a similar condition confronts in a greater or less degree the entire country. The employers are beginning to organize, and as their work of organization progresses so will also their power to impress upon the people that they really have side to this great question and that this side must be given earnest and thoughtful consideration."

OPINION OF LOCAL LABOR.

Some Think New York Strikers Should Be Punished for Lawlessness.

The action of the Building Trade Club in New York Friday night in passing resolutions declaring that the strike, lockouts and labor disturbances in Greater New York were the results of the dangerous features to labor unionism, was the subject of much discussion among Indianapolis labor leaders yesterday. The fact that Indianapolis is interested in the fight now being carried on in New York under the leadership of Secretary Frank Durty by the United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners and the Society of Carpenters gives a sort of a local interest to New York labor conditions.

The labor conditions in New York are peculiar at the present. The many strikes, especially those of the carpenters, was brought about by the questions of jurisdiction between the two branches of carpenters and the efforts at amalgamation made by the brotherhood. As a result of a failure of the leaders to get together and the insistence of the United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners for the amalgamation which was proposed by the American Federation of Labor has tied up building trades in New York for several weeks with no prospect of a settlement. The disturbances and a resumption of work on the large contracts held by the builders.

NEW YORK TORN UP.

The New York situation is said to be not an example of the efforts of the wisest heads in the labor movement. A man fully conversant with the principles and beliefs of the more conservative labor leaders and a man who is an authority on labor laws and regulations said yesterday that New York is at present torn by the conflict of labor unions which do not know their own purposes. He says that the conditions there are nothing more than socialistic, and that the craftsmen who are on strike are not striking for arbitration or for a settlement of the labor troubles, but to be engaged in a strife with capital and in that manner indirectly bring the Rebekahs and Odd Fellows. The Rebekahs and Odd Fellows will hold forth in Indianapolis this week, beginning with the Rebekah State Assembly to-morrow and Tuesday and concluding with the Odd Fellows' Grand Lodge Thursday and Friday.

The credentials and finance committees of the Rebekahs will meet to-morrow at 10 o'clock in the I. O. O. F. Grand Lodge Hall, Washington and Pennsylvania streets, and the assembly will open at 2 o'clock in the afternoon. The reports of the president, Mrs. Sarah E. Ray, of Shelbyville, and other officers will be presented and the committees will be appointed. Following the closing session Tuesday an excursion will be run to the Odd Fellows' Home at Greensburg.

Following Monday's sessions the meetings will be executive and held in Masonic Hall during the week and in Germania Hall the week following. During the week a number of social features of the convention will be provided for the entertainment of the delegates. The local committee from Indianapolis lodge No. 146, composed of Noah B. Smith, chairman, A. C. Akers, treasurer, Eugene Rogers, treasurer, and P. O. Shea, C. P. Fate and J. J. Sedwick, has arranged for a grand ball in Tomlinson Hall to-morrow night, a trolley party to Fairview Park Tuesday night, a visit to Kligan Company's packing house Wednesday afternoon, visit to Garfield Park Thursday night, a picnic in Riverside Park Friday night, and a visit to the Atlas engine works Saturday afternoon. Next Sunday a special train will leave the Union Station at 8:30 a. m. for a trip around the Belt Railway through the courtesy of the Monon company. Luncheon will be served to the delegates in Broad Ripple. Next Monday afternoon the visitors will inspect the Van Camp packing house, and Tuesday will be tendered a picnic by the local lodge in White River Park.

A majority of the delegates to the convention will have reached the city by midnight to-night. The New York delegation, the Eastern representatives of switchmen's lodges, will come in on a special train from Buffalo at 3 o'clock, and other parties from the middle and far West are due during the evening. The general officers, boards of directors and important committeemen have been in the city for several days at work under the direction of Grand Master Hawley and Grand Secretary-treasurer Welsh.

"If it were possible for me to say so publicly, I would say that my earnest wish as a worker of the organization of laboring men is that the New York strikers be brought to time and punished for their lawlessness. I also believe that the New York builders are right in denouncing the strikers as being unfair to their employers as well as injurious to their own interests."

President William D. Huber, of the United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners, said yesterday that he had not read of the action of the New York builders and did not care to discuss it.

Dr. Charles A. STONE STRIKE STILL ON

TROUBLE AT THE QUARRIES REMAINS IN ACUTE CONDITION.

Musicians Preparing for Opening of National Convention—Notes of Local Labor World.

Work on the federal building will be delayed for some time after all. The hoped-for settlement of the strike in the Bedford, Ind., quarries is as far distant as ever and there is no prospect of the men returning to work to-morrow. It was thought Friday night that the stone trouble would be satisfactorily settled after the meeting of the stone mill operators and the agreement of a new wage scale was reached by them Friday, but the prospect of a settlement is poor. Yesterday the sawyers and planers utterly refused to sign the scale submitted to them and were loud in their declarations that the scale had been made to suit the convenience of the quarry operators, little or no consideration being shown the demands of the strikers.

The real trouble at the quarries is said to be just beginning. The quarries will in all probability be shut down altogether, as the cutters will soon have cut enough stone to swamp the mills, and there are no workmen dressing stone for shipment.

MEN ARE OBSTINATE.

D. F. Kennedy addressed the strikers and laboring men of Bedford Friday night and talked over the situation with them. His efforts availed nothing, as the men remain obstinate and declared they would not return to work until the scale demanded is agreed to by the mill operators. The strikers are demanding that they be paid greatly increased wages. Planers want 32 cents an hour, headbookers 25 cents, second bookers 21 cents, laborers 17½ cents, machine runners 20 cents, head sawyers 25 cents, second sawyers 20 cents and general sawyers 18½ cents. In March, 1903, the head sawyers were paid 20 cents an hour and the other classes of labor proportionately lower. The strikers want to be paid 22½ cents to head sawyers and 23½ cents to planers, increasing the other classes of laborers in the same proportion. The strikers insist on the full amount of their demand and declare emphatically that they will not return to work without it.

A protracted strike in the Bedford district will work many embarrassments to contractors throughout the Union as well as killing business in the community at Bedford for some time to come. The town is practically supported by the stone industry and when all of the laborers in the quarries and stone mills are thrown out of employment business will be at a standstill. The building in various cities of the Union will be stopped because of the failure of the contracting quarry owners to deliver the blocks of stone. The Indianapolis federal building will be delayed as much as any building in the country, and as brick work can only proceed another week on account of the absence of the work of the stone setters, work on the big building will stop next week. The contractors are much discouraged at this additional labor trouble which will cause a cessation of work at a season of the year when so much can be done.

MUSICIANS GETTING READY.

Local Entertainment Committee Meets This Morning at Germania.

The executive board of the American Federation of Musicians will meet this morning at the national headquarters in the Denison Hotel, to go over routine business preparatory to the beginning of the convention to be held in Germania Hall. The first session of the convention will be on Tuesday, and during the entire week the meetings will be open to the public, except at the order of the convention. Several delegations of musicians arrived in the city yesterday and registered at the Denison. The New York delegation came in a body, and other large delegations were coming in last night. A majority of the 18 delegates expected will have reached the city by to-morrow night. The delegates, in addition to their work of deliberating in the convention, are empowered to present to the executive board grievances from their respective districts. These grievances consist of rejections of transfer cards and like technical details of the organization.

The local entertainment committee, of which H. D. Hiezenberg is chairman, will meet in Germania Hall this morning to complete the plan of entertainment for the convention, as well as distribute the badges and souvenirs. The social features of the convention have not been planned as yet, with the exception of a smoker to be given Thursday night in honor of the visitors.

OFFICERS OF MINE WORKERS.

President Mitchell and Others Will Return to City This Week.

Vice President Thomas Lewis, of the United Mine Workers of America, will return to this city this afternoon, after an absence of several days in the West Virginia coal mine district. Mr. Lewis is keeping in close touch with the interesting labor situation in that field. His knowledge of conditions and his personal experiences in organizing the field and as adviser to the union laborers there make him a valuable man for the work, and he is devoting most of his time as chief organizer of the Coal Miners' Union to the West Virginia field. President John Mitchell, of the Mine Workers, is still in New York attending the meeting of the Civic Federation. He will probably return to Indianapolis during the week the exact date being unknown, as at his headquarters in the Stevenson building.

Secretary W. B. Wilson, of the United Mine Workers, left for Bartonville, Ill., last night to attend a labor picnic to be given there to-day. Now Wilson will return to Indianapolis in time to deliver an address at the meeting of the Switchmen's Union to be held to-morrow in Tomlinson Hall.

Efforts of Cigar Makers.

A strong effort will be made by the local union of the International Cigar Makers' Union to push the product of Indianapolis cigar makers on the local market. The cigar makers have returned to work after winning a strike of several weeks' duration, and will now devote their energy to the pushing of the cigars they make for their employers in the city. Not only in the advocacy of consumption of home products will the tradesmen work, but in the fighting of foreign manufactured cigars and clear advertising.
